

Register your not-for-profit group for a chance to receive a share of £10,000

The Airbus Community Awards, in association with the Bristol Post and Airbus, will be presenting 10 prizes to recognise the un-sung heroes of our community, all nominated and voted for by Bristol Post readers. Each award will be accompanied by a cash prize for the group to use for to fund a future project.

It's easy to get involved.

Simply visit www.bristolpost.co.uk/airbus and follow the step by step guide to register a deserving group. There are some criteria for who can win and the details are also on the website.

- Is there a fantastic youth group in your area who should be recognised?
- Does your group help support education and learning?
- Are you making a positive impact on the environment?
- Do you see a group making a difference to the lives of vulnerable or disadvantaged people?

All registered groups will appear in paper on Friday February 16 and Bristol Post readers can collect tokens for who they would like to receive an award.

How can I register?

Register a group now at bristolpost.co.uk/airbus

To get involved all groups need to please pre-register.

If you are interested in registering a group, please read our criteria online to discover if your group is eligible for registration. If they are, you will need to complete the online nomination form available on the website.

How does my group win?

All registered groups will be listed in the Bristol Post on Friday February 16 so that the local community can start collecting tokens for their favoured group to win a share of the £10,000 prize awards.

Tokens will continue in the Bristol Post from Monday, February 19 to Monday, March 19.

Look out for bonus days where we will be printing multiple tokens in one day.

The top 10 groups with the most tokens collected will be invited along to an awards ceremony at Airbus and will all win a share of the £10,000 awards money.
